A metamodel or surrogate model is a model of a model, and metamodeling is the process of generating such metamodels. Thus metamodeling or meta-modeling is the analysis, construction and development of the frames, rules, constraints, models and theories applicable and useful for modeling a predefined class of problems.

Great story, Mark. I arrived at the conclusion that Intel's switch to cobalt is premature (among other things) independently, without contacting people involved, and before Intel's IITC paper and recent publications from Applied Materials became available, which, along with your article is a great proof of my previously published analysis.
