The case study should have a "case" which is the object of study. The "case" should be a complex functioning unit, be investigated in its natural context with a multitude of methods, and be contemporary. Nevertheless, the case study researchers mentioned above emphasise different features. Robert Stake (1998) points out that crucial to case study research are not the methods of investigation, but that the object of study is a case: "As a form of research, case study is ...
